Summary

Full Stack Web Developer with experience in food, beverage, and hospitality, educational background in communications/media arts, with a passion to create a better user experience with mobile-first design mentality. Recently completed a certificate for Full Stack Development from the University of Connecticut School of Engineering; with a focus on JavaScript, CSS, React, and responsive web design (MERN Stack). Adept problem solver who enjoys working with a team to overcome challenges. I believe my technical skills combined with an optimistic outlook, good communication/people skills, and a strong work ethic make me a good addition to any developer team.
